2009 HEALTH SCIENCES SEMINAR

WHO: West Virginia students in Middle School grades 6-8th (primarily those who reside in an environment which inhibits chances of success, first generation college students or low income)

WHAT: The Health Sciences Seminar is a two-day fun-filled educational program of presentations and workshops by WVU professionals. Students will be divided into small groups and attend sessions on subjects including: sports medicine, general medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, and allied health programs. The purpose of this program is to encourage, inspire, and motivate students for higher education and health sciences fields. Parents and students are exposed to health career professions, qualifications for these professions, information on high school and college preparatory course work, financial aid information, and advantages to setting career goals. There will also be a tour of the WVU sports facilities. The seminar is FREE for the students and parents that qualify.

WHEN: Wednesday, June 10 -
Thursday, June 11, 2009

WHERE: WVU Robert C. Byrd
Health Sciences Center
